

WE ARE ONE: National Day of Action in Oakland

With the down economy, the anti-worker attacks happening across the country, and next years 2012 presidential election, it is critical for Labor to unite, build power, and fight back! Workers are under the most pressure we have seen in a generation whether we are public or private sector, union or non-union.

The Alameda Labor Council and Asian Pacific American Labor Alliance (APALA) will march in solidarity through the streets of Oakland for good jobs, Wall Street accountability, and a labor community united for justice, health care, and fair immigration policies. Join over 1000 union and community activists to bring heat to the street!

FIGHT FOR A FAIR ECONOMY!
