

OE3 recently became aware of a breach that may impact the security of certain data stored on the website. This breach only applies to members who have previously registered with this site, and does not impact the data of any other individuals. Based on all information that is currently available, the compromised data includes names, usernames, passwords, and emails. The website did not store any social security, credit card, or any other personal information. The breach has since been corrected, and we are unaware of any actual or attempted misuse of the information. To ensure that data is never again compromised, however, we have suspended the members-only portion of the website pending an investigation of the cause of the breach, as well as the exploration and implementation of additional measures to secure the site's data. If you had a login and password for this website, we recommend that you identify all other online accounts where you use the same username or email and password, and take measures to protect those accounts. We are sorry for the inconvenience and concern caused by this incident.
